DISORDER IN A CONVENTION.

The republican state convention convenes at Columbia, S. C. yesterday.

At the afternoon session, E. B. Thompson, a negro, and former mail carrier in Columbia, took the chair and was presiding over a recess meeting at which various delegates were speaking.

Presently, Capt. John C. Capers, United States commissioner of internal revenue and republican national committeeman from South Carolina, stepped upon the platform and was introduced by Thompson as "a good democrat." After this the two men faced each other and Thompson brandished a large hickory stick, which he was using as a gavel, in the face of Capt. Capers. Capers caught hold of the stick as if to quiet the negro. Seeing that Thompson was bent upon a row, Capt. Capers hurled him from the platform, five or six feet, the negro falling upon his head.

By this time the hall had filled with delegates and visitors, and there was a wild rush for the platform as if to do harm to Capers. About a dozen white men and a larger number of negroes, friends of Capers, immediately surrounded him and pushed back those who apparently wished to do him bodily injury.

For ten or fifteen minutes pandemonium reigned. Several negroes were seen to reach for their revolvers, but none was drawn.

Chairman E. H. Dess, after hammering on a table for ten or fifteen minutes restored a semblance of order and recognized T. L. Grant, of Charleston, who read resolutions of sympathy on the death of the late Bishop Ellison Capers, father of Capt. Capers, which was adopted.

Capt. Capers later read the report of the committee on credentials and nominations. The resolutions commended the administration of President Roosevelt.

Capt. Capers said he wished the delegates to go uninstructed. The friends of the administration were in complete control at all times.

After the convention had adjourned, Aaron Pioleau, who was recently convicted and served a sentence for robbing the mails, attempted to organize a separate convention and elect delegates to Chicago opposed to the administration.

CHILD SLAIN BY FANATIC.

A report of a horrible murder by a religious fanatic in the cement borough of Alliance, near Allentown, Pa., is reported. Councilman Henry Smith's little daughter was killed by the former's brother-in-law, Robert Bachman, of Nazareth, Pa., while on a visit at the Bachman home. At the time of the killing Bachman was in a frenzy, during which he drove everybody except the little girl out of the house.

Bachman was the head of a new praying band and last week he got the Smiths interested. They went to Bachman's house last Saturday, prayed and held services, and then decided to remain until the spirit told them to leave. Late Monday night under Bachman's direction, Smith, in fighting the devil, broke three doors, kicked in the footboard of a bed and jumped on the bed, smashing it.

Meanwhile Bachman was in an adjoining room with the Smiths' only child, May Irene, who would have been five years old yesterday. When Mrs. Smith entered that room she found her daughter dead on the floor and Bachman on his knees alongside in a religious frenzy. The horrified mother snatched up the bleeding corpse of her child and ran, shrieking, from the house.

Bachman was arrested. His wife told the coroner that the child had been killed by God and that her husband was God.

MOVING A TOWN.

Incidental to the work of digging the Panama canal, the engineers are preparing to pick up a village that was so unfortunate as to establish itself in the path of progress.

This is the old town of Gatun which has 110 buildings and a population of 600. It is on the site of the Gatun dam and will be carried off two miles and set down along the Panama railroad. In the commission's way of doing things, the moving of a village is about as important as sawing off a leg.

The church and parsonage have already been shipped to their new home. The native school is about to be moved and the natives are taking down their houses and putting them on freight cars on which they will be hauled to the new site, at the expense of the commission.

The only difficulty is that the natives who had lived in the present location before it became the Gatun dam site, don't relish carrying off their houses to a new place. If they don't, the commission will do it for them. The new site is the only one where the sewer and water works have been installed before the town. Everything is now ready. When the houses are set down the town will be full fledged, with well-paved streets and all public utilities.

SIX MEN ASPHYXIATED.

The bodies of six unknown Italians, supposed to be miners from Midvale, Pa., were found in a room on the third floor of a New York lodging house yesterday afternoon. The gas in the room was turned on, and the coroner stated that the men had been dead several hours.

Seventy-two Italians took quarters in the house Saturday to await passage to Europe and all but six of them sailed Monday. A porter smelled the gas yesterday afternoon and tried the door of the room occupied by the six men.

Unable to gain entrance, the porter broke into the room and found the men lying on their cots. The porter found that after the Italians had closed the door for the night they had nailed it shut from the inside and had fastened the window tight, evidently in fear of thieves.

The appearance of the gas jet indicated that one of the men had turned out the light, but did not fully close the stop.

WOMAN CONFESSES.

Mrs. James Farmer, who, with her husband, is held at the jail at Watertown, N. Y., suspected of the murder of Mrs. Sarah Brennan, of Brownville, whose body was found packed in a trunk Monday, has made two confessions of the crime, according to the police.

In the first, it is said, she admitted it was she who struck the blows with the axe, while Mrs. Brennan was looking out of the window, with her back turned. She had the trunk in readiness for the body, she said. When confronted with the body of the victim, the police say, she made the second confession, saying:

"I may as well tell the truth; Jim did it. I found him leaning over her body in the sitting room. He had the axe in his hand, and said to me, with an oath: 'That's the end of her.'"

WEDNESDAY EVENING, APR. 29, 1908

OF ALL the abhorent banquets ever held in this country that of the "race equality feast" given by the Cosmopolitan Society of Greater New York at Peck's restaurant in Brooklyn on Monday night last was the limit. The dinner was attended by white women and men and negroes of both sexes and has naturally created a big stir. Social equality and intermarriage between the races were advocated. White girls were seated next to colored men at the dinner during which cheers for intermarriage were given by those present. At one table, about which were grouped a dozen white girls, clad in shimmering gowns, some of them decollette, were negroes on each side of them. Hamilton Holt, editor-in-chief of the Independent, gave forth utterances on intermarriage which stirred his auditors to enthusiastic applause. He said many white men will take colored wives, and black men will make up for it by choosing fair partners. Miss Mary White Ovington, a Brooklyn society girl, who has been prominent in settlement work, and whose father is proprietor of the Hotel St. George, occupied a seat at the speakers' table. Negroes were clustered all about her. Miss Ovington did not touch upon race equality as bluntly as Mr. Holt had done. She first called upon her audience to move closer together, and then said:

I am glad I have been asked to welcome you in behalf of the Cosmopolitan Club. I believe it would be a terrible state of affairs when the negro gives up any of his rights as a man. He should never be satisfied until his equality is recognized. The power of love overruns caste and brings people of all castes together. I should like to think that our society stood for the hunger of brotherhood among all human beings.

What this country is coming to no one can foretell, but up to the time of the holding of this dinner few people would have believed that in any white community in this country such a thing could have occurred. Many will agree with Senator Simmons, of North Carolina, who says: "I regard it as a direct result of the White House dinner to Booker Washington, one of the greatest errors ever perpetrated by a president."

BEFORE the House committee, which is investigating the subject of the tariff on wood pulp as affecting the price of news print paper, and also whether or not there is a combination of paper makers in restraint of trade, John Norris, representing the paper committee of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association, yesterday submitted further evidence in support of the association's charge that such a combination exists and that the price of paper has been arbitrarily raised. Mr. Norris refuted the contention of the manufacturers that increase in price has been partly due to to higher freight rates, and submitted a communication from the Interstate Commerce Commissioners showing the freight rates from the principal mills to the larger consuming points, from which it appeared that with one or two exceptions there had been no increase for several years, and in two instances the statement showed a reduction in rates. Continuing his testimony Mr. Norris said he had been assured by publishers all over the country that the paper makers were in conclusion and he thought this information was bourne out by the uniformity in prices.

A MAN dropped dead in a New York street car yesterday after offering his seat to a woman. In Philadelphia, says the North American of that city, it's the woman who drops dead when anything like that happens.

AFTER the "equality" dinner in New York on Monday night the president now feels justified in having entertained Booker Washington at lunch at the White House.

From Washington.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Washington, D. C., April 29.

Hearings will begin here on Friday before the mediation board constituted under the Erdman act and including Commissioner of Labor Neill and Commissioner Knapp, chairman of the interstate commerce commission, to effect a settlement of the Chester, Pa., street car strike. Both the strikers and railway officials have agreed to mediation by this board.

Secretary Taft who returned to Washington today will leave tomorrow evening for Charleston, where he will go aboard the cruiser Prarie, en route for Panama. He will be accompanied by his secretary and Richard R. Rogers, general counsel of the Isthmian Canal Commission.

The government today introduced testimony in the Hyde-Benson-Dimond-Schneider land fraud case, tending to show wholesale forgery by George Davis in signatures to school land applications while he was acting as agent of E. P. McComach president of the First National Bank of Salem, Oregon, and one of Hyde's agents.

By letters from hundreds of newspapers, John Norris, representing the American Newspaper Publishers Association, today showed the House committee investigating the price of print paper that a trust controls the paper business. He contended that all mills had settled on $50 a ton for paper and had divided the territory among them.

President Roosevelt today received a medal from the management of the Jamestown Exposition. The presentation, was made by H. St. George Tucker; Director-General Martin; U. Brooks Johnson and G. F. Shepherd. The medal was the first one issued for presentation to prominent men who assisted the exposition.

One million dollars is given to ex-slaves and their heirs by the terms of a bill reported to the House today by the committee on banking and currency. The measure has already passed the Senate. It is intended to reimburse the negroes who lost money in the Freedmen's bank which was established for the colored race soon after the war.

The Senate committee on public lands today authorized a favorable report on the bill to open the Fort Keogh Military Reservation in Montana to settlement. The bill grants 160 acres of the land and the buildings to the State, and 160 acres each to Miles City, and the Custer County Fair Association.

William R. Wheeler, of Alpine, Cal., who was offered the place of Assistant Secretary of Commerce and Labor several days ago, called at the White House today, and accepted the place. Wheeler is at present a member of the Immigration Commission.

Secretary Taft, in response to the resolution of the House directing the War Department to extend necessary relief to the tornado sufferers of the south, issued orders today to the quartarmasters and commissary departments directing that supplies be issued upon the request of Major Devol who has gone to Hattiesburg to take charge of the situation.

Louis Lundy, the negro with whom Representative Heflin had trouble in a street car recently, has been sent to jail on a charge of assaulting Nannie Hickman, an aged and paralytic negress.

The Senate this afternoon again stepped aside from precedent, and although the widow of Major General Wheaton has an income of $2,500, voted her a special pension of $50 a month.

When the House committee on banking and currency meets tomorrow, it will take up the revised form of the Vreeland emergency currency bill which Mr. Vreeland will introduce in the House today.

The President received today telegrams from Governor Noel of Mississippi and the tornado relief committees of Hattiesburg and Purvis thanking him for the prompt measures he took to relieve the distress of the storm sufferers. The governor's message described the storm at some length and told the president that the loss of life at Purvis and immediate vicinity was 55 killed. There were also 200 wounded and 2,000 rendered homeless in that vicinity.

Sixtieth Congress.

Washington, April 29.

SENATE.

The Choctaw and Chickasaw restriction bill, reported today was withdrawn to be revamped by the Indian committee later this afternoon. Similar action was taken with the Jeff Davis resolution calling upon the Secretary of the Interior for information as to the tribal cases, and the resolutions for striking 2,000 names from the rolls.

Senator Warner of Missouri, who has already spoken for over six hours on three different days in the Senate, on the Brownsville case, and who had expected to conclude today, sent word to the Senate through Senator Lodge that he was ill. He asked "leave to print" the remainder.

Mr. Bacon and others objected to breaking a long established custom. It was pointed out that Senators could read the unfinished portion of the speech, if it was desired. The Missourian who does not expect to be back at his desk for several days, will be communicated with.

The Senate this afternoon made the District child labor bill the unfinished business and decided to cast the final vote before adjournment, May 6th.

HOUSE.

"Hark my word. The passage of the Aldrich bill would be the most fatal legislation this House could enact. Is the republican party going to be so foolish as to fool the American people with a foolish measure—yes, a dangerous one?" So spoke Chairman Fowler, of the House committee on banking and currency, today in a short address on financial legislation. He said there is no need of such a measure as the Aldrich bill. With the revision of the tariff held over the people's heads and a provision for $750,000,000 of "fiat money," as provided for in the Aldrich bill, next year this country would have a panic such as the world has never seen. Mr. Fowler urged the passage of his currency commission bill.

Pleading for just thirty republicans to join the democrats in making a majority of the House to request the Speaker to recognize some one to move to pass a bill to take the tariff off of print paper and wood pulp, Mr. Williams today placed a petition on the table in front of the Speaker's stand signed by 162 democrats.

"There you will find ink and pen," said Mr. Williams. "It is never too late to be saved. Wont you, just 30 of you fellows—almost that many of you have introduced bills to take the duty off—come out and be saved? Do something for your constituents."

Mr. Littlefield marched down to the "bench" to investigate. He shrugged his shoulders amid democratic applause and walked away. In a solemn, sepulchral voice, Mr. William quoted:

"As long as the lamp holds out to burn, the vilest sinner may return.

"Our lives are short, continued the Mississippian, as he took up his sermon after the volumes of applause that greeted his poetry.

"Do something. Don't be afraid. He who is so tolerant or opposition, so patient of stumbling blocks in his way, the speaker, will not harm you. I assure you that you will suffer no physical harm."

Mr. Williams said he had joined the Optimistic Club and recommended its poetry to the republicans. This he said was not written by the Post Laureate of the House, Mr. Dalzell.

Though the path of life be stormy,
Play the game.
Troubled waters may surround,
Disappointment will counfound,
Yet though heartaches still abound,
Play the game.

Demurrers Overruled.

New York, April 29.—Judge Hough in the United States Circuit Court this afternoon overruled the demurrers interposed against the indictments found against Charles W. Morse and Alfred H. Cotts in the case of the National Bank of America. The defendants were indicted for conspiracy to defraud and misapplication of the funds Judge Hough sustains all the counts of the indictment, alleging misapplication, declaring it is not material whether or not the funds were replaced. He also sustains the count of the conspiracy indictment on the ground that there is indicated the deceiving of an official of the government.

Vermont Republicans.

Burlington, Vt., April 29.—The republican State convention today was preceded by a lively pow-pow in the committee on resolutions over the question of Taft's endorsement. It is probable that the Taft men cannot achieve even as favorable a compromise as those allowed by the republicans in Massachusetts and New Hampshire. That they should struggle at all is a surprise, for since Governor Hughes spoke here, Vermont has generally been conceded to him. There is no desire, however, to instruct delegates for the New York governor; all his adherents wish is a free and unhampered delegation.

The latter was evidently first to cut him off. The pretender has fallen back to Tadla, 128 miles south of Fez, where the Sidi Bendaoud tribe is giving him refugee. The loyalists are not strong enough to follow up their victory but General Bagdani, commander of the Sultan's army, is hurrying to reinforce them with 5,000 men from Rabat.

Japanese Squadron in Chinese Waters

Pekin, April 29.—Another Japanese cruiser squadron has arrived in Chinese waters—on a friendly visit, the Japanese say—to frighten China into abandoning the anti-Japanese boycott, according to the Chinese. The vessels are at Chiog Wang Tao, near Taku. So far as appearances go, the visit is really amicable. Admirals Ijuin and Teragaki have come up to Pekin with their staffs and the emperior and dowager empress will receive them Friday.

The people are furious, however, at what they consider a hostile demonstration. The viceroy of Canton, where the Tatsu Maru incident produced the the bitterest impression and the scene of the beginning of the boycott, has even advised the Japanese admirals not to bring their craft there, as he fears attempts by the Chinese to damage them. The squadron will visit Canton despite this warning.

Connecticut Democrats

New Haven, Conn., April 29.—Although ten o'clock was the time set it was an hour later when the democratic state convention got together for the final session today. This was due to the fact that the resolutions committee was still wrestling with the proposition of endorsing William J. Bryan.

The antis were in control, and it was generally believed the resolutions, when presented, would declare for an uninstructed delegation. The fight, however, is to be carried onto the floor.

When the convention finally assembled it was expected that the delegation from the state would go uninstructed and would not be bound by the adoption of any unit rule.

The resolutions committee finally tabled the resolution endorsing Bryan and instructing the state delegation for him and also tabled a substitute which endorsed the Nebraskan and his policies.

Delegates to Support Knox.

Harrisburg, Pa., April 29.—The Pennsylvania republican convention today instructed delegates to the national convention to support Philander C. Knox, United States Senator, for the presidency. The convention also nominated a number of State officers. There was no contest over the election of delegates and the nominations were as had been prearranged. The platform adopted is an exceedingly brief document in comparsion with those of former years. It strongly endorses the national administration especially the contentions of President Roosevelt that Congress should control interstate commerce.

A resolution introduced by Julius G. Bone, of Allegeheny, calling upon the next legislature to enact a local option law as void down by committee on resolutions.

Mass at St. Patrick's Cathedral.

New York, April 29.—Six thousand and one children—the odd one being Mark Twain, the youngest of them all—filled St. Patrick's Cathedral today at the solemn high mass, the chief event of children's day in the week's programme was celebrating the centenary of the founding of the diocese of New York. Mark Twain, with his flowing white hair, and wearing a light grey suit and hat, said he was one of the children. He pleaded his love for the little ones and a special seat was arranged for near the altar.

The Rt. Rev. Thomas A. Burke, bisop of Albany, was celebrant of the mass, assisted by Rt. Rev. Mgr. Dr. J. S. M. Lynch as deacon, and the Rev. Thomas A. Thornton as sub-deacon. The sermon was delivered by the Rev. J. Raymond Meagher, O. P.

Awaiting Attack.

Tiflis, April 29.—A force of 1,000 men is lined up along the Russian border in constant expectation of an attack by the Shakkak Kurds who are ravaging the Persian Armenian provinces to the southward and are reported to have massacred 2,000 villagers near Selmas, April 2.

The Russian side of the frontier is swarming with Armenian refugees and several Kurdish bands, which crossed the border in pursuit of them have been driven back with little trouble by the Russian troops. A general attack will be serious, however, as the outlaws already number 3,000 and are steadily gaining strength.

Persia is doing practically nothing to restore order, the war minister maintaining that he lacks funds to equip an expedition.

Expect Trouble at Funeral.

New York, April 29.—The police are much perturbed today as to whether a demonstration will be made at the funeral of Selig Silverstein, the would-be bomb thrower, who died yesterday. The premature explosion of the bomb cost Silverstein's own life. He died yesterday. While no definite arrangements for the funeral have yet been made, it is known that many of his former associates will follow his body to the grave, and the police are today taking precautionary measures to preserve order.

Suspension.

New York, April 29.—The suspension of Coaster, Knapp & Co., the senior member of which, Charles Coster, committee suicide last night, was announced on the Stock Exchange at the opening of business today. No statement of assets and liabilities is as yet obtainable. Simpson Werner, of the law firm of Werner & Co., has been named as assignee of the firm. The assignment was made at the request of certain creditors who desired that all creditors be equally safeguarded.

Trump Hand Kills Woman.

Muskegon, Mich., April 28.—A full hand of trumps brought death to Mrs. William Ward, of North Muskegon, in a game of Pedro last nigh. Mrs. Ward was visiting at a friend's home and some one suggested cards. She was studying her hand when she suddenly dropped it and fell back in her chair unconscious. She had suffered a fatal stroke of apoplexy. Every card in her hand was a heart, which was trumps.

West Virginia Republicans.

Parkersburg, W. Va., April 29.—The republican State convention to name delegates to the national convention is being held here today, and while they will not get down to business until this afternoon, it is all fixed that the four delegates-at-large will be for Taft. The utmost enthusiasm was shown for Taft in the early stages of the convention, and all the anti-Taft candidates for delegates were snubbed openly.

City Council.

The City Council last night passed an ordinance providing for the appointment and licensing of city guides, and transacted an average volume of routine business.

BOARD OF ALDERMEN.

All the Alderman were present, and the business which was presented was transacted without discussion.

Mr. Summers offered a resolution, which was adopted by a unanimous vote, appropriating $375 for repairing the Relief Hook and Ladder house.

Mr. Sweeney presented a report of the finance committee recommending the payment of a bill of John W. Sutton, $22.50, for service as watchman of a quarantined house, and the report was adopted.

A petition of Dr. G. T. Klipstein for permission to use cedar posts as a foundation for six frame houses on Pendleton street, between Royal and Pitt, was granted.

The Common Council returned the petition of Rev. Dr. W. F. Fisher for permission to place a tablet in the front wall of the station house in memory of Rev. Jeremiah Moore, the lower board having non concurred in the action of the Aldermen April 14 in granting the petition and referred the papers to the committees on streets and general laws. The Aldermen receded from their action and concurred in that of the Common Council.

An ordinance providing for the appointment and licensing of city guides was received from the Common Council.

Mr. Brill moved that the section forbidding such guides from trespassing upon trains be amended by inserting the words "and wharves of steamboat companies."

After some interchange of opinion concerning the objects of the ordinance and its results in which most of the members participated, the ordinance, having been read three times, was passed.

The Aldermen concurred in the action of the Common Council on all other papers sent in.

COMMON COUNCIL.

The regular meeting of the Common Council was held last night and all 16 members were in their seats.

A communication from the Mayor stated that his attention had been called to the danger of collisions between the electric cars and the fire apparatus at the street crossings at King and St. Asaph, King and Patrick, and Cameron and Patrick was received. He stated that he had visited the officials of the W., A., and Mt. Vernon Railway and secured a promise from them to have all trains stopped at these intersections.

A communication from the Board of Fire Wardens bearing on the same subject, was also received.

A recommendation from the street committee that $200 be appropriated for gutters on Oronoco street, between Patrick and Henry was adopted.

Mr. Marshall offered a resolution appropriating $100 for needed repairs at the Columbia and Reliance engine houses and the city jail was passed, after a few remarks from the introducer as to the necessity of its immediate consideration.

Mr. Birrell offered a resolution in regard to the electric cars stopping at King and Pitt streets. He said he had been requested to do so by many business men; he referred to the number of people visiting the old Marshall House, the convenience, etc. It was referred to the committee on streets and general laws.

A resolution appropriating $450 for gutters on the west side and improvements on the east side of Washington street from Duke to Wolfe, was referred to the committee on streets.

A resolution appropriating $1,050 to construct a terra cotta sewer on Washington street from Wilkes to Gibbon was referred to the committee on streets.

A report in reference to rszing the old frame structures on the city's property at the northwest corner of Pitt and Princess streets and using the lot for storage purposes, was referred to the committee on streets and public property.

A petition from the Alexandria Medical Society requiring the recording of all births in the city, was referred to the committee on general laws and finance.

Mr. Hellmuth presented an ordinance to provide for the appointment and licensing by the Mayor of city guides and asked for its immediate consideration.

Mr Birrell said as he understood the ordinance it gave the Mayor power to appoint, but not revoke. He thought it should give the Mayor such power.

The Chair said his business was located at a convenient point where he could see the operation of these so-called city guides. He was of opinion that something should be done to rid the city of what he termed an outrage. Strangers were accosted by these boys and worried to the point of asking citizens to protect them. He said that only a day or two ago a case happened when the visitors were compelled to pay these guides to get rid of them. He was heartily in favor of the resolution.

Mr. Brill agreed with the Chair and suggested that the ordinance did not work a hardship on anyone.

Mr. Spinks offered an amendment that the Mayor be empowered to revoke the license of a guide.

Mr. Barke thought the Mayor should have the same power to revoke as he had to appoint. It should be discretionary with him, and he suggested it be so amended.

Mr. Evans thought that although the Mayor did not try infractions of the law, yet, no matter who tried the cases, the Mayor should be the one to revoke the license upon conviction.

Mr. Brill suggested a reference to the committee on finance and general laws, to be brought in with the regular license law.

Mr. Strauss spoke earnestly about the abuse of these guides and hoped something would be done.

After an exchange of views about the manner of license, etc., the ordinance was read a third time and passed unanimously—ayes 16, noes none.

A bill from Mr. John W. Sutton for $22.50 for services rendered under the direction of the board of health, was ordered paid.

A petition from Dr. Geo. T. Klipstein to be allowed to use cedar posts for foundations for frame houses he is erecting on Pendleton street, between Royal and Pitt, was referred to the committee on streets.

A resolution came in from the Board of Aldermen appropriating $375 for repairs to the Relief Hook and Ladder house, and their action was concurred in.

A resolution from Mr. Strauss instructing the committee on streets to renew the flagging on Prince and Pitt streets, was referred to the committee on streets.

Mr. Harrison called up the petition from Rev. Dr Fisher, pastor of the First Baptist Church, in reference to placing a tablet in front of the station house building in memory of Rev. Jeremiah Moore, who was "imprisoned three times in the old city jail for preaching the gospel without license." This was laid over at the last meeting after having been passed by the Board of Aldermen.

On motion of Mr. Brill their action was nonconcurred in and the petition was referred to the committee on public property and general laws.

Mr. Leadbeater, during a lull in the proceedings, asked what had become of the resolution in reference to the extension of the city limits. He spoke of the necessity of action in this matter, as to to the city furnishing police protection, etc. He also referred to the new union depot and the improvements leading up to it; he further referred to a conversation he had with Mr. Duke, of the railroad company, in the matter of improving King street extended. He went on to say that he thought the county authorities took little interest in this end of the county. He also referred to other cities having enlarged their borders and could see no reason why Alexandria could not do the same thing. He wanted information on the subject and did not want in future to be held accountable for the non action of Council.

The Chair said that he was of the opinion that the gentleman would not be held accountable for the alleged inactivity of the other 15 members of the body. He was convinced that any request made by the railroad company to the Board of Supervisors of the county would be promptly attended to and thought the railroad or the county and not the city should pay for improvements near union station. He said the reason the committee had not acted was the fact that it was making arrangements for the refunding of the city debt and he thought it was generally understood that no action looking to the enlargement of the city's boundaries would be taken until after this very important matter had been gotten out of the way.

The explanation was satisfactory to Mr. Leadbeater and the matter rested.

Mr. Evans said that he had presented a resolution last July appropriating $25 for the improvement of Penny Hill burying ground. He recognized that it was an increase of $5 over the usual appropriation and he thought for this reason it had been put to sleep. He wanted to know what had become of the resolution; also as to the matter of the drain pipe at Gibbon and Henry streets; nothing had been done in the matter. He thought the services of the "gum shoe man" might be brought into requisition in both these cases.

Mr. Burke asked if he thought the man would need a badge or pistol.

Mr. Williams offered a resolution instructing the committee on streets to confer with the Board of Supervisors of Alexandria county in regard to the improvement of the western end of King street.

The ordinance in reference to the city guides was returned from the Board of Aldermen amended so as to include steamboats and the action was concurred in.

A resolution appropriating $20 for the improvement of an alley on Washington street between King and Cameron was referred to the committee on streets.

The board then adjourned.

CONGRESSIONAL.

In the Senate yesterday Senator Burkett submitted a report on the condition of the Washington schools as regards fire protection, with a letter from Chief Belt, showing a surprisingly bad condition in schools which he has inspected.

The District appropriation bill was passed, with a number of amendments made during its consideration.

The pension appropriation bill was also passed.

Senators Gallinger and Burkett had a somewhat heated controversy as a result of the latter's charge that no street railway legislation can get through the Senate without the approval of the officials of the traction companies.

Senator Warner continued his speech on the Brownsville fray, and Senator Elkins tried unsuccessfully to have passed his resolution suspending the commodity clause of the interstate commerce act.

Senator Jeff Davis moved to discharge the committee from consideration of his bill to abolish the trusts, and gave notice that he would speak on the motion next Friday.

During a short executive session the Senate confirmed a number of nominations.

The House in committee of the whole indulged in more general debate on the sundry civil appropriation bill.

Under guise of debate on this bill speeches on various subjects were made by Representatives Meade, Goebel, Madison, Byrd, Burnett of Alabama, Aiken, Keifer, Ansberry, Hitchcock, Vreeland, and Hamlin.

After listening to the reading of the president's message, the House took a recess until today at 11:30 o'clock.

Dinner of Cosmopolitan Club.

New York, April 29.—New York police are expecting trouble to result from the wave of indignation now sweeping over the city as the result of the dinner of the Cosmopolitan Club in Brooklyn on Monday night, at which white men and women sat elbow to elbow with colored men and women, while they discussed social equality and suggested inter-marriage as the solution of the race problem.

Miss Mary White Ovington, daughter of the millionaire Fifth avenue china merchant, who was the one white woman speaker at Monday night's dinner, insisted when seen today at her apartments in the negro tenement in Sixty-third street that the Cosmopolitan Club will continue its efforts to bring the two races closer together. "Ultimately," she said, "all the nations of the world will intermix."

COMMITTED SUICIDE.

Mr. William Schwarzmann, residing at 525 south Fairfax street, shot and killed himself last night in the yard of his residence. The report of the pistol was heard by his wife and others who were at the front of the house at the time, as well as by neighbors, and for a few minutes attracted but little attention, as several pistol shots had been heard in the neighborhood earlier in the evening. Lieutenant Bettis, who lives on the same square, however, began an investigation, and it being asserted by some that the shot was fired in Mr. Schwarzmann's yard, the lieutenant entered and found him lying on his back near a flower-bed with a pistol on his breast. He had shot himself through the head and was virtually dead.

Dr. Walter A. Warfield was summoned. He had the body taken into the house, and Dr. S. B. Moore, Coroner, after being notified and reviewing the remains, issued a certificate of death by suicide.

Mr. Schwarzmann was a son of the late Andrew Schwarzmann, and with his father and several brothers came to Alexandria about sixteen years ago and was instrumental in establishing the first glass bottle factory in this section. He had during late years been a sufferer from chronic disease, and this coupled with disastrous financial investments are given as the cause of his suicide. Mr. Schwarzmann was a member of Andrew Jackson Lodge of Masons, Old Dominion Commandery, Knights Templars; Mount Vernon Chapter, Royal Arch Masons; Acc... Royal Arcanum; George Mason Council, Fraternal Order of Owls, and the Glass Bottle Blowers' Association. He had recently been employed at the Virginia Glass Works. Mr. Schwarzmann is survived by a widow, youngest daughter of the late Ferdinand Knight, and several brothers and sisters. He was 37 years old.

He served during the war in the Confederate army. Captain Willis married in 1846 Miss Edwena Ambler, whose father and grandfather owned Jamestown Island, a fine Virginia estate at that time. His wife, with five children, survives him. He was well known in this city.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES.

The annual commencement exercises of the Florence Crittendon Training School were held last evening at 218 Third street, northwest Washington. The programme was an extremely interesting and edifying one. The graduating class of trained nurses was larger than usual. Miss Lila Waller Barrett, its president, delivered a thesis upon the subject of the "duties and responsibilities of the trained nurse," also a valedictory address to her class. Mr. Charles Crittendon presented the diplomas, with appropriate remarks to each of the recipients. Instrumental and vocal music of a high class also contributed to the enjoyment of the large audience present.

SOLDIER DROWNED.

While swimming in the river in the vicinity of the Washington Arsenal wharf last evening about 6 o'clock, Theodore Nszurek, a Russian twenty-two years old, a private in Company C, Hospital Corps, was seized with cramps, and was drowned. The body was subsequently recovered. Companions of the unfortunate man attempted to save Nszarek when they saw he had been attacked by cramps.

THE FISHERY.

Conditions at Fishtown this morning were practically unchanged from those prevailing during the past few days. Receipts showed no material increase and prices were unchanged. Captain Phillips, of the steamer Washington, which arrived up early this morning from Norfolk, reported Chesapeake bay as being alive with shad and herring. The steamer ran through many "schools" on her way up.

GANS-NELSON FIGHT.

As will be seen by an advertisement in the Gazette, the Gans-Nelson fight will be reproduced at the Metropolitan Moving Picture Show at the Opera House next Thursday night, the fight commencing at 9 o'clock sharp. The fight occurred September last. In reproducing this fight there will be used 7,000 feet of films, or nearly 1¼ miles of moving pictures.

ALLOWED TO DEPART.

Officers Ferguson and Knight yesterday arrested two youths as suspicious characters. They gave their names as Harry and Roy Smith, and said they came from Baltimore. They were brought before the Police Court this morning, and, upon promising to leave the city at once, were dismissed. The above was the only case before the court this morning.

FOUR "DEADDRUNKS."

On Monday night officer Roberts found four men in a helpless state of intoxication on one square. He placed the "knockouts" in the hands of their friends who conducted them to their homes. Notwithstanding the Byrd law, people whose wont it is to tarry long with the wine manage to procure all the stimulants they desire.

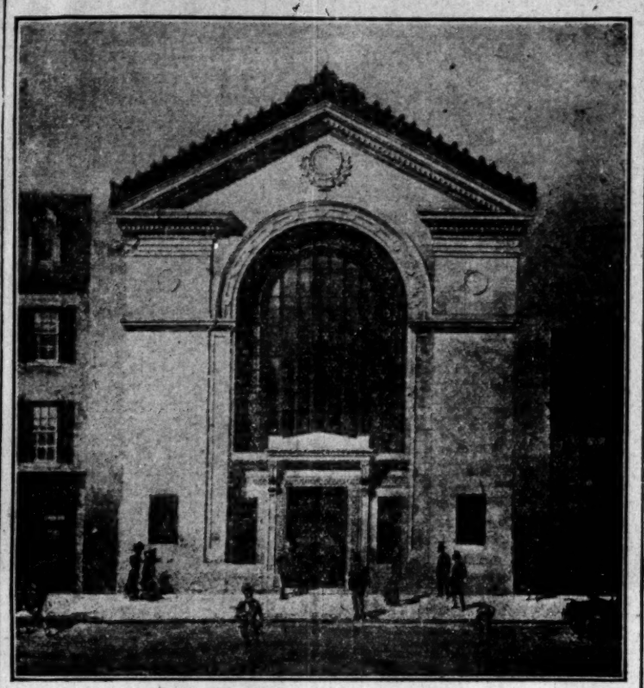
NEW HOME OF THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK.



Plans and specifications are nearing completion for the new home of the First National Bank, which will be located on King street, between Pitt and St. Asaph. The building will occupy two lots with a frontage of about fifty feet. As will be seen from the above cut, the building is of classic design, and with its front of white Georgia marble will be a great addition to the city. It will be of fireproof construction throughout, and will contain many features new in bank planning. One special new feature is the arrangement of the watchman's room directly over the vault, from which it will be possible to guard the entire premises without being observed. The building will be about fifty feet high, with a depth of seventy-five feet. Upon entering, the president's room will be on the left side, while the ladies' room will be on the right, having wickets to tellers and clerks. Marble and bronze will be used largely for the interior, while the vaults for safe deposits and bank securities will be of the most modern type. The lobby will be in the central portion of the building and the entire interior of the banking room will be finished with white face brick, the ceiling being constructed of guestavino tile vaulting, which at the same time forms the interior decoration and the construction for the roof above. It is intended to have the construction of the building begun about the last of May or first of June. For the selection of plans a competition was held among the leading architects of Washington, and the design of Morrill & Vogt was accepted. The work will be under the personal supervision of Mr. Milton Dana Morrill, who has for a number of years been a resident of this city.

The First National Bank of Alexandria is one of the strongest banking institutions in this State. It has been in existence for forty-four years, having been organized in 1864. Mr. Charles R. Hooff, the president, was the first cashier, and continued in that position until a few years ago when he was elected to the presidency. The other officers are J. F. Muir, vice-president; G. E. Warfield, cashier; J. J. Green, assistant cashier, and C. R. Hooff, J. F. Muir, M. B. Harlow, G. L. Boothe and B. Baer, jr., directors. The resources of the bank amount to $1,115,720.

TO LICENSE GUIDES.

As will be seen by the proceedings of the City Council last night, hereafter all persons offering their services as guides in Alexandria will be required to pay a license tax of five dollars a year and to wear badges. They are also to be appointed by the Mayor. This will break up the annoyance experienced of late by visitors to Alexandria who have been surrounded by hordes of boys, white and black, who have persisted in piloting strangers through the city. The new law also provides a penalty in case any person wilfully misrepresents any alleged point or memento of other days. The law will go into effect as soon as signed by the Mayor.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH.

There was a large attendance at the prayer meeting services of the First Baptist Church last night. Dr. W. F. Fisher, who preached his farewell sermon last Sunday, was present and baptized several converts. At the close of the meeting, the doctor's congregation bade him good-by with many expressions of the esteem in which he has ever been held by them and with many wishes for success in his return to his former labors. As has been stated, Dr. Fisher will resume evangelistic work in Virginia. He left today for Lancaster county.

STOPPING AT CERTAIN INTERSECTIONS.

All trains of the Washington, Alexandria and Mount Vernon Railway Company now stop at King and St. Asaph, King and Patrick and Cameron and Patrick streets. This is being done to avoid any accident that might occur between trains and fire engines when alarms of fire have been sounded.

FUNERAL.

The funeral of the late Conny Gray, colored, took place this afternoon from Roberts Chapel on south Washington street. The services were conducted by Rev. J. W. Colbert. The remains were interred in the National Cemetery. A large number of friends and acquaintances of the deceased attended the funeral.

Disappearance of a Little Girl.

Middletown, N. Y., April 29.—All at sea as to whether little six-year-old Mary Kelly has been kidnapped or fallen to death among the rocks in the Rockland county mountains, searching parties are tireless in their endeavors to find the little girl. Mary disappeared from her home on Monday and the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Kelly, are prostrated over the disappearance. The Kelly home is at Stattsburg and the section from which she disappeared is not far from the spot where Marion Clark, of New York, was held for some days after she had been kidnapped from Central Park years ago.

Boy Fatally Wounded.

Chicago, April 29.—James McNulty is dying today because he and several other children disturbed the sleep of William Wentz. Wentz is under arrest charged with shooting the boy. Young McNulty and other children were playing outside Wentz's home late last night. Wentz reached for his revolver and fired several shots in the direction of the children. One bullet struck McNulty in the abdomen. Wentz declared he intended only to frighten the lad.

The Choice.

A young man stood before the mirror completing the finishing touches to a toilet of which he felt justly proud.

He was going to call upon the girl's widowed mother to ask for her daughter's hand in marriage.

At last everything was complete except his cravat. Before him on the dressing table spread the two cravats between which his choice rested, one, a neat black with a narrow white stripe, which he had bought himself; the other a cravat which the girl had given him for a present, a tie such as only women purchase.

"If I wear the black and white one, I'll look my best," he mused. "On the other hand, if I wear the one she gave me I'll please her immensely, but will look like a fright."

Then he whistled, walked around the room and carefully tied his cravat.

The mother said, "Yes," although there were tears in her eyes, and the girl thought he was the handsomest and best dressed man in the world.

Which cravat did he wear?—Bohemian Magazine.

In the Ghost Laying Business.

This advertisement appeared in London in 1777:

"Haunted Houses.—Whereas there are mansions and castles in England and Wales which for many years have been uninhabited and are now falling into decay by their being haunted and visited by evil spirits or the spirits of those who for unknown reasons are rendered miserable even in the grave, a gentleman who has made the tour of Europe, of a particular turn of mind and deeply skilled in the abstruse and sacred science of exorcism, hereby offers his assistance to any owner or proprietor of such premises and undertakes to render the same free from the visitation of such spirits, be their cause what it may, and render them tenantable and useful to the proprietors. Letters addressed to the Rev. John Jones, 30 St. Martin's lane, duly answered and interview given if required. N. B.—Rooms rendered habitable in six days."

Durability of Glass.

It does not seem odd to find inscriptions written ages ago still visible on the Tower of London or on the steeple of some cathedral, but one would hardly look on a fragile pane of glass in a common window for characters 200 years old. A notable case in point is that of the old house in London wherein the notorious Jack Sheppard once lived as a carpenter's apprentice. One of the window panes still bears an inscription cut in it by a glazier's diamond recording the name and address of a man who preceded Jack's master in that house.

The inscription is, "John Woolley Brand, Painter and Glazier, March 12, 1706."

That was nine years before the coming to the house of the famous Jack Sheppard and over 200 years ago.
